The ORANGE TIGER drive board

Antibacterial
and powerful

The Gutmann ORANGE TIGER drive board

In the cleaning sector, preventing the formation of germs and bacteria is an essential factor.

For all hygiene areas

The new ORANGE TIGER for hygiene-sensitive areas reduces the risk of contamination. The transfer of bacteria and germs from the drive board to the pads and on to the floor is virtually eliminated.

Outstanding efficiency of over 99.9%

The components of the ORANGE TIGER have been tested in the laboratory and offer a strong defence against bacteria and germs with an effectiveness of over 99.9%. The patented laser welding of the drive board body and hook plate fuses both parts together absolutely seamlessly and leaves no room for even the smallest dirt particles.

Strong and sensitive at the same time

The new antibacterial plastic formula is also resistant to chemicals and has an almost unlimited shelf life. The innovative geometry of the "double-toothed barbs" ensures a high degree of robustness while at the same time providing optimum protection for the cleaning pads.

Strong against bacteria and germs. All components are equipped with antibacterial function.

The Gutmann added value for your machines

Offer optimal benefit to your customers:

100% recyclable

Highly resistant to chemicals

Antibacterial
over 99.9% effective

Intelligent technology for firm hold and gentle release

laser-welded components
– high-strength and sealed unit
– no adhesives

Your innovations are our challenge

We give support with our competence and experience and we support you in developing suitable components for your new cleaning concept.

The best performance for your machine

We adapt our products perfectly to your machine with excellent properties for your competitive advantage.

Flexible structures for an economical production

A flexible manufacturing structure allows us the efficient and economical production of prototypes, small, medium and large series.

Fast and reliable response times

Our lean organization as well as a close relationship to our customers allows us to react quickly to new situations.
